Assesment of your current Financial Status

Cash Flow Management

Cash Flow Management is a system, not a budget. It allows you to see your financial situation from a long-term, systematic viewpoint. You will see how one move, such as a periodic tax payment, can affect your disbursements for several months prior to, and following, the actual payment.

A Personal Cash Flow Management System, if used consistently, can be of great value in helping to gain control of your personal financial situation. It will ensure that there is always cash available to pay bills as they come due. It will also help you save more money in a systematic way.

Time is your greatest ally. The more time you have, the less money you will need to save and invest. The less time you have, the more money it will take. Procrastination is a deadly enemy of your goal to retire with financial dignity.

Contingency Planning

Contingency Planning

Contingencies can arise due to many reasons like Job loss, health problems, temporary Disability, etc. Contingencies can result in reduction or stoppage of one's income. But regular living expenses need to be taken care of anyway. So, a well thought out and planned Contingency Fund for such situations can be a great help. A Corpus equivalent of 3 - 3 months of Living expenses plus committed outgo kept in liquid form is highly recommended.

Emergency funds should be invested in short-term investments such as savings, liquid funds or Bank Deposits.

Objective

- a) Maintain an emergency fund in the range of Rs.210,772 to Rs.210,772 to cover 3 to 3 months worth of living expenses.
- b) An emergency fund is important in the event of an unexpected job loss, reduction in income or to cover unexpected expenses.

Your net worth is a snapshot of your financial life at one moment in time, a single number representing your financial health. It's the total of everything you've earned and spent until today.

Knowing your net worth is important if only for one reason: It forces you to interact with your financial life, keeping you in touch with your money and knowledgeable about where you are on the road to where you think you're going.

Personal Financial Ratios

Personal finance ratios are as important to an individual investor as are stock ratios to the health of a company. You have stock analysts, market pundits, punters and ordinary investors predicting the path of a stock after analyzing basic stock ratios like EPS and PE; however, none pause to think about the personal finance ratios that could help to measure and analyze their fiscal health and contribute to their healthy financial planning.

Savings Ratio

As life spans increase and job spans reduce, we all need to build larger retirement corpuses to take care of a higher number of non/less-productive years. The more you save, the more capital you will accumulate. That's simple logic. But too much saving, at the cost of not enjoying life today, is also not a great idea.

	Your Ratio(Calculated)	Ideal Ratio
Savings Ratio	42.75%	25 %

Debt To Income Ratio

The Debt to Income ratio tells you the total monthly income that you spend towards servicing any kind of debt you have - home loan, car loan, personal loan amongst others. The idea of the Debt to Income ratio is to move from high debt and low savings to low debt and high savings.

	Your Ratio(Calculated)	Ideal Ratio
Debt To Income Ratio	13.61%	<45 %

Basic Solvency Ratio

This ratio captures the investor's ability to meet monthly expenses in case of emergency. If your source of income stopped due to an emergency, for how many months will your money last? Liquid assets will include cash in savings account, liquid mutual funds, cash in hand. However, direct equity and equity diversified mutual funds do not qualify as liquid assets.

Monthly expenses should include all mandatory contributions of loans, EMIs, insurance premiums and household expenses like food, utilities, transportation, education, medical care.

Assesment of your future Needs and Goals

Dreams & Goals

The first step in personal financial planning is controlling your day-to-day financial affairs to enable you to do the things that bring you satisfaction and enjoyment. This is achieved by planning and following a budget, as discussed in the first part of the plan.

The second step in personal financial planning is choosing and following a course toward long-term financial goals.

As with anything else in life, without financial goals and specific plans for meeting them, we drift along and leave our future to chance. A wise man once said: "most people don't plan to fail; they just fail to plan."

The end result is the same: failure to reach financial independence.

Insurance Planning

It is extremely important that every person, especially the breadwinner, covers the risks to his life, so that his family's quality of life does not undergo any drastic change in case of an unfortunate eventuality.

If we can imagine a situation where our goals are disturbed by acts beyond our control, we realize the relevance of insurance in our lives. Insurance, simply put, is the cover for all the risks that we run into during our lives. Insurance enables us to live our lives to the fullest, without worrying about the financial impact of events that could hamper it. In other words, insurance protects us from the contingencies that could affect us.

Insurance Planning

Retirement Planning

Retirement planning, refers to the allocation of finances for retirement. This normally means the setting aside of money or other assets to obtain a steady income at retirement. The goal of retirement planning is to achieve financial independence, so that the need to be gainfully employed is optional rather than a necessity.

The process of retirement planning aims to assess readiness-to-retire given a desired retirement age and lifestyle, i.e. whether one has enough money to retire and identify actions to improve readiness-to-retire.

Current Situation

In order to maintain your life style after retirement, you would require a regular income of approximately Rs 432,000p.a. till you turn 80 years and Vaishali K Kapoor turns 80 years old.

26 years from now (i.e. until your retirement - Dec2,040), you will incur expenses of Rs.4,060,436 approx p.a. which translates to Rs.432000.00 p.a. in today's value. To generate this income, which will be increasing at the rate of inflation and is required to last for your lifetime, you will need to accumulate a corpus of Rs. 52,298,854 approx at the time of retirement.
